2 GEIR: Enron, this is Geir.

3 TIM: Hey, Geir, this is Tim.

4 GEIR: Hey Tim.

5 TIM: All righty, I just made the schedule changes with Nevada and Western. They seemed
6 perfectly happy when I told them that it's just goin' back to APS, to Arizona.

7 GEIR: Y – y – you t – you were taking up to the 230 and then down from there?

8 TIM: Right. So you're picking it up Mead 230. So as far as Western's concerned, that 25
9 megawatts, they won't even see it, 'cause it's just going to – I – I guess, to Ari – Arizona.

10 GEIR: Well, th – Western will still see you, right?

11 TIM: What's that?

12 GEIR: So, Western – you tellin' me Western won't even see this?

13 TIM: The 25.

14 GEIR: So, who do I tell about this?

15 TIM: Ah, you need to call Arizona.

16 GEIR: And PAC, right?

17 TIM: And PAC. And I have no idea who PPW is.

18 GEIR: Right, that's just PAC.

19 TIM: Oh, is that PAC?

20 GEIR: Yeah, I d – I didn't recognize [inaudible] but that's ah – that's PAC.

21 TIM: OK.

22 GEIR: And we will, ah – so we're gettin' this from you at – at the Mead 230.

23 TIM: Right, you're pickin' up at Mead 230.

24 GEIR: OK.

25 TIM: So technically, Western will see it, but it's bouncing out – just in and out of their system.

26 GEIR: Yeah. Yeah, I – I see what you're talking about.

27 TIM: A ricochet, I guess, is a good way of putting it. All of that seems to be a pretty –

28 GEIR: Bounce is good.

29 TIM: Bounce, or yeah -- [inaudible]

1 GEIR: [laughing]

2 TIM: -- [inaudible] on the ISO.

3 GEIR: Yeah -- no, um, that sounds good, Tim.

4 TIM: All righty.

5 GEIR: I will -- I will make the calls.

6 TIM: All right. Thank you very much.

7 GEIR: [inaudible]

8 TIM: Bye.
